Irvington Raps Newark

Cityhood Plans Draw Fire from Chamber

With a blast at "land-grabs" and "un-neighborly conduct," the Irvington Chamber of Commerce this week girded for a battle with incorporation-bound Newark.

Root of the issue is Newark's announced intention of becoming a city with boundaries the same as the Newark Fire District. This overlaps into the Irvington School District.

NORRIS WILL TAKE SUPERIOR JUDGE'S OATH NEXT MONDAY

Allen G. Norris, Centerville attorney, will be installed a superior judge of Alameda County next Monday at 1:30 p.m. in the Oakland Courthouse.

Norris' appointment to one of two new court vacancies was announced last week by Governor Earl Warren.

Monday's ceremony will take place in Department 1 of the Superior Court, with a host of well-wishers from Washington Township slated to be on hand to greet their first Township-dwelling superior jurist.

Two native Townshippers, Peter J. Crosby and Ezra Decoto, won superior bench seats generations ago, but they were living and practicing law in Oakland at the time.

Norris was again honored last Monday at a meeting of the Centerville Chamber of Commerce. Acting Pres. Dallas Paul decreed there will be no luncheon meeting next week, to enable as many members as possible to be on hand for the oath-taking.

In addition, Paul directed the secretary to write Governor Warren thanking him for the appointment, which was strongly urged here.

Norris responded, saying he was deeply moved by the honor, and that he feels the obligation involved is heavy, especially since he will be sitting in Juvenile Court.

He will continue to live in Centerville, where his family settled more than 100 years ago. However he must forsake his law practice, which will be carried on by LeRoy Broun, his present partner.

EVEN GOATS MUST GET IN CHOW LINE

They're taking turns at the farm of the C. F. Giles on Driscoll Road, Irvington.

The Giles' nanny goat gave birth to triplets on September 2, almost as unusual among goats as it is among humans.

Since the mother goat has only a pair of milk outlets, the kids, one male and two females, have to line up for lunch, Mrs. Giles reports.

Centerville to Ride Herd on Trucks And Officials for Traffic Safety

A "new approach" to traffic problems, stressing pressure on public agencies responsible for streets and highways, was voted Monday by the Centerville Chamber of Commerce.

Eugene Manning, named three weeks ago to head the Chamber's safety committee, recommended in a report that:

1. Safety problems receive serious study.
2. Those that can be corrected on the local level should be handled there.
3. Then chamber representatives should make personal calls on the agency responsible, since "letters have been attended with poor success."

4. If this approach fails, persistent and periodic follow-up calls should be made.

Manning and the other two committeemen, Dr. J. Merle Buehler and George Bonde Jr., commented that the two most serious hazards to road safety in Centerville are:

1. Speed on Main Street, and
2. Drivers' disregard of pedestrians.

"This committee considers trucks the worst offenders," the report continued. "They constitute the greatest danger to life and limb."

Suggestions for countering the menace included:

1. Taking movies of "the truck races through the business district";
2. Calling in enforcement agencies, "up to the Governor, if necessary";
3. Having pedestrian safety signs placed in crosswalks, to be maintained by various merchants, except on Sundays.
4. Pushing installation of stop signals at Thornton Avenue and at Machado's Corners (approved this week by State and County).
5. Installation of stop signs at Baine and Blacow, and street lights at Fremont and Santos Roads.
6. Writing letters to truck companies whose overloaded vehicles spill rock and gravel on the town's streets.

The safety committee also rendered a specific complaint against haphazard diagonal parking at the bend in Fremont Avenue just east of Main Street. They recommended that parallel parking only be permitted, to keep cars and trucks from jutting into the traffic bottleneck there.

JAMES R. QUINN

QUINN TO EXPLAIN BOARD FUNCTIONS

The part played in California's government by the State Board of Equalization will be explained Tuesday night to a Washington Township audience by James R. Quinn, board member from the East Bay.

Quinn will speak—and answer questions—at a meeting starting at 8 p.m. in Washington Hi auditorium.

The confab is sponsored by Women for Better Government, non-partisan political study group headed by Mrs. Harold Korell of Niles.

The State Board originally was designed as an agency to equalize property assessments between California's 58 counties. After repeal of Prohibition, however, it succeeded to control of liquor, now its principal function.

Quinn was elected to the Board in 1942, again in 1946 and 1950. An Oakland city councilman between 1933 and 1942.

Michael Heads Committee to Back Zone 6 Flood Curbs

South Township citizens were joining hands this week to urge a "yes" vote October 14 on $1,750,000 in bonds for flood-control and storm drainage work.

At a meeting last week, Bruce Michael, Warm Springs rancher, was named chairman of a committee to back the bonds for Zone 6 of the County Flood Control & Water Conservation District.

THANKS!—General James H. Doolittle, national campaign chairman of the United Defense Fund, thanked local United Crusade supporters after speaking at a recent luncheon at Alameda Naval Air Station. They included Mrs. Bruce Michael of Warm Springs (above), residential chairman for United Crusade in Washington Township and vice-chairman of the Council of Southern Alameda County Communities which was originally financed by United Community Defense Services funds. United Community Defense Services is an agency of the United Defense Fund, which, in turn, is supported locally by contributions to the United Crusade.

UNITED CRUSADE KICKOFF OCTOBER 6

With a $13,000 goal, Washington Township's United Crusade drive will open October 6 with a kickoff luncheon in the International Kitchen.

This announcement came today from Chairman Peter D. Juhl. Juhl said the original $11,000 quota was upped to provide for a $1250

BAR TO REPLACE BARN IN C'VILLE

Centerville merchants and townfolk alike rejoiced this week with the demolition of an aged eyesore, a dilapidated barn at 155 South Main Street.

The old barn was torn down by its owner, Ray Bettencourt, who announced he will erect a $70,000 restaurant-bar-liquor store-sporting goods store on the site.

Partner in the enterprise is Gerald Dutra of Niles.

HOUSE NUMBERS GET SUPES OKEH

Bids for numbering streets in the unincorporated areas of Alameda County—including Washington Township—were authorized this week by the Board of Supervisors.

Private firms will bid on the job. After that, the work will be kept up-to-date by a county agency, as yet unselected, according to Supervisor Chester Stanley.

SEEK 4-H LEADERS FOR NILES CLUB

Adult leaders are sought for the Niles 4-H Club, as the club plans for its meeting and election on September 28.

Training is not essential for the work, William Tyson, longtime club leader advises. Experienced leaders will train others for the job.

Needed are leaders for the following classes: clothing, foods, leathercraft, gardening, beef and dairy cattle, poultry, livestock, swine, horses, rabbits, sheep, goats and electricity.

The September 28 meeting starts at 7:30 p.m. in Niles School auditorium. Plans will be made for a skating party October 6 in San Leandro.

Roy Sjolund, production manager, has been promoted to general manager and secretary of the corporation, according to Richard M. Duff, president.

Don Reath Back

Don Reath, Centerville auto dealer, this week returned to the firm of Rolly Delp after three months spent in a San Leandro agency.

Reath continued to maintain his home at 376 Fremont Avenue during his time away. A former Hudson sales executive in Oakland, San Francisco and Detroit, he is associated with Delp in a Dodge-Plymouth agency.

SITE FOR SCHOOL ANNEX READIED

Demolition of old buildings on the Irvington School grounds began this week, in readiness for a new 10-classroom unit, on which work is scheduled to start in December.

Supt. of Schools Gus Robertson explained the old structures—one house and three shacks—are located northwest of the school cafeteria, and were purchased last May from Dr. E. M. Grimmer.

Robertson said the school will call for bids on the new building late in October, with construction slated to start 30 days or so after that.

QUARESMA OFFICE SCHEDULES MOVE

Judge E. A. Quaresma, justice of the peace for the Niles-Centerville Judicial District, this week announced he and a Castro Valley attorney, Gene Rhodes, will build joint law offices next to the Centerville county office building.

Preliminary plans call for 1300 square feet of floor space, including two offices and a library. The building will be located on a 50 by 100-foot lot fronting on Martha Street, across from the county offices.

Rhodes is a graduate of the University of Arkansas, and served as a state's attorney there for seven years. He is 36, and a World War II veteran.

Judge Quaresma's offices have been in the Ellsworth Building, Niles.

MEASLES, MUMPS

Two cases each of measles and mumps were reported last week to County Health Director J. C. Malcolm.

WILSON JUMPS ON KYNE TRACK 'DEAL'

Niles' outspoken dentist, Dr. Tom Wilson, looked a gift horse squarely in the teeth Tuesday at a Niles Chamber of Commerce meeting.

Dr. Wilson successfully extracted a resolution condemning the State Racing Commission for allocating Racetrack Mogul William P. Kyne three extra "charity days" at Bay Meadows to make up a charity fund shortage for which Kyne has been under fire.

The original "charity" money was supposed to have gone to servicemen's welfare, Dr. Wilson charged, but instead Kyne used it to finance his unsuccessful Portland Meadows track. Then, said the angry orthodontist, when Kyne was investigated, he hornswoggled the racing commissioners into giving him three more "charity days" to make up the shortage.

"Fine charity," snorted Dr. Wilson. "That's just taking the new money out of the public's pocket for Kyne's welfare! Why isn't he made to restore it himself?"

At the doctor's motion, the chamber agreed to dispatch a letter to Attorney General Edmund P. Brown protesting the commission's action.

"The railroad will simply make a one-hour adjustment in its operating schedules, which remain on standard time the year around," he explained.

Southern Pacific trains that will maintain the same schedules by public clock time as before the change include the San Joaquin Daylight on the valley run between Oakland and Los Angeles; the Lark, Coast Daylight and Starlight on the Coast Route between San Francisco and Los Angeles; the Del Monte between San Francisco and Pacific Grove; most trains in local service between San Francisco and Sacramento; also the Northwestern Pacific daily train between San Rafael and Eureka, including San Francisco bus connections.

Most SP trains crossing state lines will have schedules one hour earlier by public clocks.

MARJORIE REIS, RONALD LOPICCOLO WED IN ST. EDWARD'S CHURCH CEREMONY

The front, back and long train of the gown was embroidered nylon net over satin, the bouffant skirt had tiers of nylon tulle ruffles on the sides. A sweetheart hat of embroidered nylon secured the finger-tip veil. The bride carried orchids and a white satin-covered prayer book.

Best man was Francis J. Reis of Newark and the ushers were Edward Cardoza of Centerville and Carmello Lopiccio of Cupertino.

The church was decorated with white stock, carnations and fern tied with satin bows. Organist was Margaret Williams and Russell Lopiccio was the vocalist.

Mrs. Reis designed and made all the gowns worn by members of the wedding party.

Following the double-ring ceremony, at which Father Thomas Gilbert officiated, a reception was held at the Newark Pavilion for over 300 guests.

Special guests at the wedding were the groom's 87-year-old grandmother, Mrs. Pulizzano of San Francisco, and the bride's 87-year-old great-aunt, Mrs. M. E. Vieira of Warm Springs.

What would happen after you struck oil?

This? Anyone who's ever owned a piece of property has day-dreamed about striking oil. It could happen—and if it did, what next? Do you go shopping for yachts? Not if you want to develop your well into an oil field by yourself. You'd have to stake your commodore's hat and plenty more to build up a producing field. It's a tough and risky job even for Standard Oil Company of California. Only one wildcat well out of every 44 ever develops into a commercial oil field . . . and the cost of finding out can run into millions of dollars. Standard is able to do this because it is owned by more than 115,000 shareholders, each of whom bears part of the cost. Both small and large companies are essential to the oil business, but companies like Standard bring together the money, manpower and skill required to find and build up a big-oil field. In developing one field Standard invested years of time and millions of dollars in drilling, production, construction, maintenance teams—and the work is still going on. Indeed, your dream-well could lead to a yacht . . .

But first, here's part of the bill for bringing an oil field into production. It's a good example of how a big oil company works for you. Over the years, Standard has invested in more than 200 such fields to bring you the oil you need. *Questions or comments about our Company are welcome. Write: Standard Oil Company of California, P. A limited number of jobs in grape picking and walnut harvest are expected to be open soon, Allan stated. Jobs for men walnut knockers and climbers.

Newark Model Home

An "exclusive" new $500,000 subdivision opens its pilot model in Newark Sunday.

This is the Garden Homes development on Sycamore Street, north of George Street, projected by the Terranova-Hanna Company.

The homes, 40 in number, are designed exclusively for Newark Garden Homes by Cliff May, famed ranch-home architect, whose designs have received wide publicity in national home magazines.

The houses are three-bedroom, two-bath models, and sell in the $11,000-$12,000 bracket. Only 40 will be built, according to Terranova-Hanna, a Palo Alto firm; and 14 already have been purchased.

TAKE STOCK, AMERICA!

For some time now, the air has been full of dire prophecies that America is heading into a grim repetition of the 1929-33 business depression. This newspaper doesn't believe it's so, and cites herewith a few facts to back up our belief.

1. Cuts of about 10 billion dollars this year in defense spending, pessimists claim, will start a "recession." Yet, the U. S. cut defense expenditures 126 billions between 1944 and 1947 and still experienced the greatest business boom in its history. Actually, a five-percent increase in customer buying would make up the current loss.

2. Present trends point to about 256 billion dollars of spendable income for the American people in the coming year. Of this vast sum, 134 billions will be available after taxes and such "basic" needs as food, clothing and shelter.

3. Consumer credit—or "installment" debts—is high, about 24 billions, compared to eight billions in 1940. But spending-power has increased five-fold: from 26½ billions in 1940 to 134 billions today. Even with inflation and increased taxes, this gives Americans 80 per cent more "real" purchasing power than in 1940.

4. We have hardly scratched the potential need for things to buy in the U. S., another factor which should keep our industries producing. For instance, with 65 per cent more children under five years old than in 1940, we need a nation of new schools. Half our homes are over 30 years old; we need more new housing construction. With 72 per cent more cars on the road than 13 years ago, we need more streets, highways, garages. And with 80 per cent more high school graduates than in 1940, we need to produce more and finer articles of all types to satisfy the demand for a higher standard of living.

This last factor holds the key to continued prosperity. Americans simply want more, and America must produce more to give it to her people. Further use of our productive powers will satisfy the want. It will also keep our economy at a high level despite an end of huge military expenditures.

So how can we turn that 134 billions of loose purchasing power into the profitable round-robin of trade to keep factories, farms, stores prosperous?

Says one business analyst:

"The economic conditions facing us present both a major opportunity and a challenge to selling. The task is that of educating the American people to accept and work for the higher standard of living their productive capacity warrants. Selling and advertising are needed as never before."

Every intelligent businessman should subscribe to that viewpoint, and apply it to his business. If his store is run-down, he should fix it up. If his stock is depleted, out-of-date, he should replenish it. And if his service or merchandise isn't being brought to the public attention, he should advertise it. If he doesn't, the storekeeper or the factory owner is neglecting a vital link in the chain that will keep him prospering, and our nation with him.

TO THE HILLS

Summer died gracefully this week after a feverish flareup, and now autumn's rites begin with a foggy baptism. The biting weather makes for good walking. A sweater, a stick and of course a dog, are the most necessary ingredients if the hiker decides to take to the hills.

Back of Niles, or behind Mission Peak, lies some of California's grandest heel-and-toe country. When the weather holds fair, the Livermore Valley and the lower Bay lie at the stroller's feet. The grass is dry as tinder, and the pungent mullen-weed provides a heady perfume. Quail explode from the fiery poison oak, and down an oak-mantled canyon a deer makes haste.

To the week-day pavement dweller such a brief escape brings back to recreation its original, hyphenated meaning: "re-creation." And all this at our doorstep!
